RENEWED RETRO

Event designer Lynn Dale took guests back in time to the psychedelic year of 1964 to celebrate yet another milestone, her 50th birthday.

"I wanted the party to have a retro feel that incorporated both the formal and fun side of the 60s which is why the invitation called for 1964-inspired glamour from white dinner jackets to Pucci prints." Bellboys greeted guests and cigarette girls rolled Asian dumpling carts setting the vibe for the night. Peterson Party Center provided the black and white dance floor where the Pucci clad go-go dancers performed a choreographed number to Elvis's hit, A Little Less Conversation. The black and white floor really popped on the beautiful green terrace of 9OFS and provided a dynamic contrast against the Boston skyline. Every detail emulated the 60s. Lynn even searched eBay for magazines from June 1964, which she provided to The Catered Affair to use as serving trays. Some of the delectables served on those trays were mini raspberry sorbet cones, house made apple, cherry and blubbery "pop tarts," fluffernutter cones, and house made "Twinkies and Yodels." Each guest left with a boxed cupcake topped with a baby picture of Lynn.
